James Clar has launched two new fluorescent lighting products. Referencing early LED displays, Blue 88 creates two large-scale digital 8 displays out of two-foot fluorescent tube segments. A control box with switches is placed in the gallery space to allow users to interact with the display, turning on and off segments to design letters, numbers, and patterns. You & Me echoes Dan Flavin's angular compositions. A total of 18 fluorescent tube lights are connected by wires to create the two separate words of the piece's title.
